

Shouldn't Women Have a Say?

Shouldn't women have a say about who is and isn't a woman? Male to transgender people never asked us. Just like other males, they invade women's spaces. But, now the invasion has exploded. They claim to BE WOMEN!

Cultural appropriation takes place when members of a dominant culture take or use parts of the culture of the people who have been dominated. It is cultural appropriation when European Americans adopt spiritual practices from Native American tribes without permission.

Is it cultural appropriation when male to transgender persons try to look and act like women? Yes, if you agree that women, within a given society, have our own culture.

Appropriation, taking what belongs to women without permission, is the best term for the behavior of male to transgender persons. Male to transgender persons are taking over women's identities! They aren't just imitating women and adopting our culture. These men say they are women! This is identity theft!

Support Transgender People, NOT Their Politics

Yes! Support transgender people in their choices to act in masculine or feminine ways!

Yes! Oppose discrimination targeting transgender people!

No! Do not support transgender politics! These political theories are anti-feminist. Women and girls are suffering.

Who Is A Woman?

Women are biological females who, from birth on, have been socialized, to varying degrees, to adopt the sex roles and "feminine" behaviors assigned by their society to their sex. Women may or may not resist their socialization, personally or politically. People born as males and/or raised as boys/men can never be women.

Women's Liberation Requires Women Only Space

In patriarchal societies much of the oppression women experience is based in our bodies and our reproductive capabilities. The bodies and life experiences of male to transgender persons are quite different from women's. Oppressed groups require spaces where members can meet with others who share their experiences and organize a resistance movement. Women must have women only spaces that exclude males and male to transgender persons in order to fight patriarchy.

Who is a Woman?

Who gets to decide?

- ☐ Patriarchal State
- ☐ Male to Transgender People
- ☐ Heterosexual & Gay Males
- ☐ Medical Industry
- ☒ Women

Can males really become women? The transgender movement says yes. The Women's Liberation Movement says NO! Shouldn't women have a say about who is and isn't a woman? What do you think?

Who is a woman? Who Gets to Decide?

Patriarchal State? NO!

Women are discriminated against on the basis of sex, not gender. Pressured by the transgender movement, city, state and national governments are passing laws to protect transgender persons from discrimination on the basis of "gender identity." Certainly transgender persons must be protected from discrimination. But, "gender identity" is based in the internalization of harmful sex role stereotypes. Women are biological females, but these laws allow biological males to legally claim to be women and invade women's spaces.

These new laws conflict with women's rights!

Why has there been no society-wide debate about who is a woman or what these laws mean for women and our daughters?

Heterosexual & Gay Males? NO!

All males benefit from their access to male privilege and the oppression of women. When the transgender movement disregards sexism, claiming that "gender oppression" is the real problem, all males become free to act as sexist dominators. No wonder the transgender movement has so much support!

To be true allies of women, men must work to dismantle the institutions of patriarchy: church, state, gender, education, corporations, law, health care. All male allies clearly see the value of women only space and support women's demands to meet as biological females.

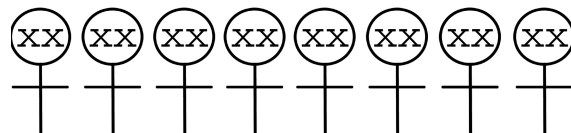

Male to Transgender Persons? NO!

Some of the demands of the transgender movement are reasonable. Transgender people must be freed from gender-based discrimination and free to express masculinity and femininity as they desire. But, some in the transgender movement make extreme demands claiming that any male who wants to, even males with fully intact male genitals, can call himself a woman, use women's restrooms, compete in women's athletics, or appropriate women's spaces.

Male to transgender persons may appear to be women when they adopt "feminine" dress and behaviors, take female hormones or undergo surgery. But, they still have male chromosomes and can never have the reproductive functions and life experiences of biological girls and women. Most still have intact penises. They are transgender. They are not women!

Medical Industry? NO!

Why is a movement of a small minority of society, less than 1%, having an impact so large that the very definition of who is a woman is threatened? Ask yourself, who profits from all the people now choosing transgender identities? Drug and cosmetic companies! Plastic surgeons! Surgeons! Psychotherapists and psychiatrists! Ask yourself, who funds the transgender movement?

Women Decide!

Imagine living in a society where women are revered and respected and have as much power as men. The women have strong connections to each other and know that those connections are the basis of their power and of their ability to keep their society in balance. In such a society would any male have the nerve to declare himself a woman without first asking the women? Would he assume he was wanted at any women's gathering without first asking the women? Perhaps sometimes women would choose to include males, but when women have power they are the ones to say who is a woman and who is included in women only events.

Today male to transgender persons are claiming to be women, but they have never asked whether or not women want them. They want to be considered women regardless of how many women object. Where is their respect for women?

Like many other males in patriarchal society male to transgender persons believe they have a right to take over what belongs to women, including even our identity. For decades they have attempted to close down any event for women that excluded them. When women object, we are called hateful and threatened with violence. But, women cannot liberate ourselves unless we are able to meet together to talk about our concerns and organize resistance. Are male to transgender persons trying to do away with what power women do have?
